BOND TO BE ASKED FOR POOLE, GAINES

Liberty of Patrolmen Will Be Sought in "Day or Two," Wilcox Says.

Efforts will be made within the next day or two to obtain the release on bond of A. Douglas Poole and Hoyt Gaines, Atlanta policemen, from the Lowndes county jail at Valdosta in connection with two charges of murder made against the Atlanta men as the result of an automobile wreck in south Georgia several weeks ago in which two persons were killed.

Poole, convicted in Cook county court Monday on one case—that of involuntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act—is under sentence of from two to three years in state prison. Gaines, who was in the car Poole was driving at the time Miss Winona Patterson and Joe Pafford were killed, has not been tried.

Over long-distance Tuesday night Colonel E. K. Wilcox, chief of counsel at Valdosta for the two men, said formal motion for their release on bail will be made "within a day or two."

"We are trying to get in touch with the prosecution to get them to consent to Poole's and Gaines' release on bail," said Colonel Wilcox, "and we expect to make the motion shortly. It will be entirely in the discretion of the court, however, and we cannot forecast the outcome of such a move. Both Poole and Gaines are under murder charges and it is within the power of the court to grant their release on bail."

Charges of assault with intent to murder, drunkenness on the public highway and carrying concealed weapons also are pending against the Atlanta officers.

FIVE MEETINGS HELD BY COUNTY ASPIRANTS

Despite persistent rains, large crowds Tuesday night greeted aspirants and their representatives in five uneventful and colorless set-tos at which they asked for voting preference in the March 9 primary, at which seven contested positions in Fulton county will be filled.

Another meeting is slated for Sunday at 7:30 o'clock at the College Park city auditorium. Buckhead, Chattahoochee and Ragsdale schools.

All candidates spoke or were represented at the various meetings, which seemed to lack the punch of former sessions. About 1,000 persons heard the addresses at the five rallies.

counsel for defense, still was confined to his home here Tuesday night as the result of sudden illness with which he was stricken while returning to Atlanta after the trial of Poole. Mr. Howard could not be reached for a statement of his opinion on the bail motion, but it was believed Colonel Wilcox and his assistants at Valdosta were in charge of that phase of the case.

MINNIE M. FISKE TAKEN BY DEATH

Three Score Years of Popularity on Stage Ended by Actress.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske is dead.

The beloved actress, who won universal acclaim during three score years, died as she wished, away from Broadway's bright lights.

Only a nurse and her companion of many years, Miss Mae Cox, were at her bedside when she died yesterday.

Her husband, Harrison Grey Fiske, had left her just before she breathed her last at Miss Cox's home in Hollis, Long Island.

She was 66 and had spent nearly all of her life, from the time she was three, on the stage.

Though a year ago she gave her husband instructions to be followed after her death, she made her last appearance in a theater November 1.

Her physician, alarmed at her condition, ordered her to cancel an engagement in "Against the Wind," at the Haymarket theater in Chicago, and she came to Hollis.

After a rest, she seemed to improve from intestinal poisoning that threatened her life. Conditions developed, and a week ago her heart weakened. A blood clot stopped its action at noon yesterday.

Announcement Delayed.

Mr. Fiske waited until the body was removed to an undertaking establishment in Manhattan today to announce her death and to say that her desire for the cremation of her body would be complied with.

Last spring Mrs. Fiske gave explicit instructions that none view her body after the death and that there be no ceremony. The body will be taken to the Fiske apartment in West 11th street, probably Thursday, and then carried to the crematory.

Thus, closes the career that started when Mrs. Fiske first played a juvenile role in Little Rock, Ark., before her third birthday. During the 63 years that followed, she became one of the greatest actresses of her time. Once an audience remained almost motionless for 10 minutes while she held her drunken lover's head in her lap and uttered the word, "That was in 'Salvation Nell.'"

She last played in New York in a farce comedy, "Ladies of the Jury." It opened in October, 1928, was moderately successful and was taken on tour.

Last Stage Vehicle.

Her new play, "Against the Wind," appeared for two weeks in Rochester, N. Y., and for another two weeks in Cleveland. It was to have been taken to several other cities after its Chicago run, which was halted in its second week.

The activity that characterized the first half century of her life continued through its last. She adopted, when 58, a 13-month-old boy, and in 1927, with Margaret Anglin, formed a national migratory dramatic organization.

Her husband was manager and director of the Fiske-Anglin theater. Its first production, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," included Miss Skinner and Henrietta Crossman in the cast.

MRS. GIRAUD FOSTER.

AIKEN, S. C., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. G. Foster, 72, of Lenox, Mass., winter resident of Aiken, died at her home here early today after several days' illness. She was formerly Miss Jean Van Nest, of New York and California.

flected elsewhere. If this state is like other southern states I have visited, it has no inclination to accept a Wall Street candidate.

"We recognize the popularity of Governor Roosevelt in Georgia," Semans explained, "but, at the same time, we remember that hundreds of Georgia democrats remember that it was 'Bill' Murray, the man who is governor of Oklahoma today, who turned the tide to Woodrow Wilson at the Baltimore convention in 1912."

Semans said that he was confident Governor Murray would carry North Dakota in the primary to be held on March 15. After the Oklahoma convention on February 20, he said, the governor will go into Indiana for a delegate drive there.

"If we decide it is the thing to do for him to file his name as a candidate in Georgia," Semans continued, "he will come to this state in advance of the primary and make at least half a dozen speeches. Our tentative plans call for two speeches a day in three of the principal cities, including, of course, Atlanta.

tion just who is the ideal candidate for the democratic party."

TEXAS SENATORS GIVE PARTY NAME OF GARNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Speaker Garner was formally advanced as a democratic presidential candidate tonight by Senators Shepard and Connally, of Texas.

Promising the votes of the state's delegation to the national convention, the senators appealed for national support for their fellow Texan as a "rugged and militant champion of the American people."

"Without reflecting upon any other democrat," they said in a joint statement, "whose name has been mentioned in connection with the presidency, we have no hesitation in averring that Speaker Garner by training and experience in national affairs and by his wide grasp of national problems is the most highly qualified of all who are being mentioned as candidates in either the republican or democratic parties."

The speaker said he had "not been informed of the statement issued by Senators Shepard and Connally, of Texas, until some newspapermen questioned me about it."

ALLIED DRY FORCES NOT IN POLITICS

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Allied Forces for Prohibition will take no part in politics, and support or oppose no candidate, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of New York, chairman, said today.

Dr. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald and president of the World Christian Endeavor Union, admitted that he was much interested in politics personally, but declined to comment on the present national situation.

BARTON SEES SMITH AS PARTY NOMINEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Arthur J. Barton, chairman of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League, today announced he would not be at all surprised if Alfred E. Smith won the democratic nomination for president. He added Smith could not be elected.

ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN SPREAD IN NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The increasingly enlivened program focused on the establishment of a strong foothold in Massachusetts for the presidential boom in behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt advanced another step today.

Mayor John J. Murphy, of Somerville, a strong Smith adherent in 1928, but one of the first to espouse the cause of Governor Roosevelt this year, announced today that campaign headquarters would be opened Friday in Boston. Roosevelt's son, James, will assume temporary charge.

The work of campaigning will be directed by two former chairmen of the democratic state committee, Charles H. McGillicuddy of Lynn, and Michael A. O'Leary, of Brookline.

SHOUSE REPLIES TARTLY TO CAROLINA BOLTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Replying to criticism by Frank A. Hampton, former secretary of the democratic national senatorial committee, Jonette Shouse said today that Hampton led the North Carolina movement in 1928 "to arouse every form of bigotry and intolerance" to prevent the election of Alfred E. Smith.

"He is now trying to carry forward the same fight under the guise of support of Governor Roosevelt," the chairman of the national democratic executive committee said in a statement.

DEFEATIST SPIRIT TROUBLES REPUBLICANS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Conquest of a "defeatist spirit" was termed the outstanding task facing the republican party by Representative Florence P. Kahn, of California, tonight at a banquet unofficially opening the party's campaign in Connecticut.

Cotton Association Farmers Show Big Profits Last Year

Director of Campaign and Southern Cultivator Editor Reports on Intensified System.

Notwithstanding rock bottom prices for cotton and food crops, 1931 was the most profitable year on record for farmers who follow the American Cotton Association's intensified system of soil culture and economic production, Harris Jordan, director of the association's better farming campaign, announced Tuesday.

The annual report compiled by Mr. Jordan, who also is cotton editor of the Southern Cultivator, shows that last year 600 field demonstrations at two to 100-acre stations resulted in a profit for every farmer participating.

An average yield of 504 pounds of lint cotton, or three times the average per acre in the south, rewarded 267 selected farmers in nine southern states who followed the intensified cultivation plan of the association's better farming campaign.

The average yield of corn per acre by 237 farmers in the demonstrations was 37 bushels, or three times the average for the south. Yields of other crops cultivated intensively, such as sweet potatoes, oats and soy bean hay, also showed unusually large production and returns.

"Purpose of the American Cotton Association's better farming program is to demonstrate to farmers that agriculture is a profitable business when approached by a fundamentally sound program," Mr. Jordan said.

The better farming program headed by him is conducted without any cost to farmers chosen for demonstrations. Mr. Jordan selects farmers scattered throughout the south and furnishes fertilizers and instructions free, the idea being to set for every farmer in the south an example of the profitability of an intensified culture and economic production program. The demonstrations on 2 to 100-acre stations are conducted at an average cost of $10 each.

Financing of the better farming campaigns is through annual sustaining membership subscriptions and contributions from leading corporations, cotton merchants, manufacturers and individuals. Total cash contributions for maintenance of the association program are $353,000, Mr. Jordan reports. In addition, his report shows gifts of nearly 600,000 pounds of high-grade sulphate of ammonia by the United States Steel Corporation; Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh; and steel and iron companies of Birmingham, Ala. United States Steel has subscribed $75,000 in cash to the campaign.

Mr. Jordan is widely known for his work in practical farming. He established in 1925 the first south-wide system of field demonstration work to teach the cotton growers the best methods of improving lint and controlling the boll weevil.

CLASSIFIED AD MEN END CONVENTION HERE

Donald W. Coleman, classified advertising manager of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, presided at the Senator Harris was stricken with intestinal influenza about a week ago and had been confined to his home here before being removed to Georgetown hospital. The operation has been described by Dr. Stirling as "serious but not dangerous."

EMPLOYEES TO GET PART OF BACK PAY BY LAST OF WEEK

do so in order to relieve the suffering among city employees and others dependent on municipal attaches for payment of debts already contracted. No insistent were the mayor and other members of the delegation that high officials of the three national banks with whom they were in conference said they would confer again with their attorneys in an effort to devise some legal means of relieving the acute situation.

The revised budget provides for drastic cuts in all departments and a blanket time donation of 10 per cent by all employees. This does not affect the Atlanta board of education employees, but the allocations to the board are reduced considerably, and it is anticipated that salaries there will be cut in conformity with those of other departments.

In addition to nearly $1,000,000, which the city owes in back-due salaries, it is in debt to merchants and supply dealers to the extent of more than $500,000, which means that if the banks agree to permit application of borrowed funds to 1931 deficiencies, more than $1,500,000 will be distributed within the next few days in Atlanta. Failure to permit such diversion would prevent payment before about March 15, it was said, as the city would be forced to apply current receipts to absorb the 1931 deficits.

PLAYWRIGHT IS FREED BY KENTUCKY JUDGE

PINEVILLE, Ky., Feb. 16.—(P)—Harold Hickerson, New York playwright, held in jail on charges of criminal syndicalism since he came here last Wednesday with a group of New York writers, was freed today on his agreement to leave the state.

He previously had refused the offer of County Judge George Van-bender and County Attorney Walter B. Smith to file away the charges if he would leave, but when it was renewed this afternoon he accepted.

Doris Parks, who also came with the New York group and who was said to be a publicity agent for the National Miners' Union which called a strike in the southeastern Kentucky coal fields, is to be given a hearing tomorrow on criminal syndicalism charges. Authorities indicated they had a stronger case against her.

HOROWITZ SEAT SALE WILL BEGIN THURSDAY

Vladimir Horowitz, the young Russian pianist, who is to play at the auditorium Monday night, is not only a marvelous interpreter of the works of the great composers, but a technician whose skill has been the amazement of musicians, according to New York critics. The feats that Heifetz performs on his violin, Horowitz equals on the piano keyboard. Striking a chord of five notes with the five fingers of one hand in such a manner that two notes are heard above the others and act as a melody to their accompaniment is all in the day's work to him.

Sale of seats for the Horowitz recital begins Thursday at the store of Davison-Paxon Company.

COASTAL STATES BODY MEETS IN COLUMBIA

Group To Study Advisability of Seeking Soviet Trade Relations.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 16.—(AP) Coastal States Co-ordinated, an organization for promoting the development of the southeast, decided Tuesday at a meeting here to make a study of the advisability of establishing trade relations with soviet Russia.

Mayor John T. Alsop Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., president, was authorized to name a committee to conduct the study. The conclusions reached will be reported to the organization.

Particular attention will be paid by the committee to the possibility of Russian purchases of raw materials and manufactured products of the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. These are the member states of Coastal States Co-ordinated.

Decision to make the study after more than 100 members of the organization heard addresses by Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the board of directors of Amtorg Trading Corporation, soviet commercial agent, and Thomas A. Morgan, president of the North American Aviation, Inc. They discussed existing trade relations with Russia.

Motion Adopted.

A motion that the study be conducted was made by J. Albert Von Dohlen, mayor pro tem. of Charleston. It was adopted by a large vote.

Mr. Bogdanov said Amtorg purchased $140,000,000 worth of American goods in 1930 despite what he termed difficult trade relations between Russia and America.

He asserted a recent decline in soviet-American trade was due to these causes and not to economic depression.

His country, he said, has felt no depression and is steadily enlarging its industrial program.

The fact Russia is not now buying cotton does not mean, he said, that it will not buy the staple in the future.

Concerning political activity of Russia, Mr. Bogdanov said the soviet government's sole aim was the building up of socialism within its own boundaries. It does not desire an increase of territory or interference in the affairs of other nations, he said.

Mr. Morgan compared the present Russia with the Russia before the revolution. He said that before the revolution it was a land of "palaces and hovels, a land of wealth and poverty, of education and ignorance, of luxury and misery."

He said far-reaching improvements resulted from the revolution. Anti-soviet propaganda, he said, claim the improvement was bought with a "terrible price," but that during his residence in Russia he saw no slavery or forced work.

He said a 60 per cent drop in American exports to Russia in 1931 was "a result of the depression."

"It is not because Russia is buying less," he asserted. "It is because we have compelled Russia to take her business somewhere else. We have kicked it out the door."

Among other prominent men on the program were Thomas B. Doe, president of Eastern Air Transport Lines; Wan Trippie, president of the Pan-American Airways; Howard E. Coffin, of Sapelo Island, Ga., a pioneer in the automobile industry; and Cary Boyer, owner of the Havana (Cuba) Post.

Proposed Included in Recommended Changes in Georgia Constitution.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP) A proposal to combine all courts of the state under one general heading—the general court of justice—has been advanced by a group of Georgia civic leaders.

The leaders, comprising a committee of the Institute of Public Affairs of the University of Georgia, brought forth a number of recommendations for changes in the state constitution. Judge Blanton Fortson, of Athens, one of the committee, in an article in the Macon News, discussed the judicial department as it would function under the proposed changes.

"It is provided in the proposed constitution," he says, "that there shall be but one court in the state, to be known as the general court of justice. It is to be composed of three departments—supreme court, superior courts and county courts. The legislature can make as many divisions in each department as necessity demands, but up new departments may be created. This insures unity of organization and, with other provisions, definitely places the responsibility for the proper functioning of all units. It also permits the simplification of appellate practice; for example, when a record is made in a trial court it suffices for all departments. If an appeal is entered all papers may simply be transferred to the appellate court."

The suggested constitution requires that all cases taken to the supreme court be promptly disposed of, civil cases within six months and criminal cases in three, and that a final judgment be entered in every case unless the appellate judges are convinced justice can be done only by having the case heard again in the department of original jurisdiction.

$575,000 CONTRACT PROBED

Stock Issue to Construction Company Not Based on Actual Work, Claim.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Continuing its public utilities investigation, the federal trade commission today questioned Hugh McRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, of Wilmington, N. C., concerning a 25-year-old $575,000 contract.

McRae testified he was unable to say from memory what the Tidewater construction company had done in exchange for $575,000 of power company stock. This admission followed the statement of Chief Counsel Healy, of the trade commission, that the record contained no reference to any work done in return for more than half a million dollars in stock.

The witness said he owned the majority stock in the Consolidated Railways, Light & Power Company when it was reorganized in 1907 as the Tidewater Power Company. He continued as president. He said he believed he also owned the majority stock in the construction company.

The commission is examining the affairs of the power company in connection with its public utilities investigation. It is now a subsidiary of the Seaboard Public Service Company and a link in the Insull group of utilities.

Under a contract signed July 18, 1907, the construction company was required to obtain certain rights of way and build railway lines in Wilmington or to build a transmission line from Wilmington to Washington.

He said he relied on the lawyers who prepared the contract to see that its provisions were carried out, and added he knew the transmission line was not built but could not say whether all the other work was done.

"I presume it was," he said, although he declined to question the record submitted by the commission's examiner showing no reference to any work being done.

"If you can show us," Chief Counsel Healy said, "any record where the construction company performed any part of this contract, we will appreciate it and put it in our records."

McRae again explained he placed his full trust in his lawyers.

"It seems to me," interjected Commissioner McCulloch, president, "that you are relying too much on your lawyers."

"I have brought up my utilities, nursed them through whooping cough and measles," McRae answered, "but I have to admit I don't know yet what a kilowatt hour is."

TWO MEN CLEARED IN AUTO HOMICIDES

Two men were cleared of charges of involuntary manslaughter in connection with fatal automobile accidents Tuesday when the Fulton grand jury returned "no bills."

H. D. Townsend was one of the two charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident at Pryor and Wall streets on November 28, last year, in which Paul Brown, a passenger in an automobile, received fatal injuries.

Townsend was driving a truck. Joseph W. Cooper Jr. was the second to be exonerated on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. He figured in an automobile accident on January 25 on Peachtree street in which W. M. Scarborough was killed.

He presented it as a substitute for a resolution by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, which would authorize the president to make consolidations when he deemed them in the interest of efficiency.

Savine Lauds Music Club Efforts To Increase Size of Its Audiences

In its effort to increase the size of its audiences, rather than to continue to appeal solely to technically minded music lovers, the Atlanta Music Club is proceeding along the right line, Alexander Savine, composer and conductor, said Tuesday night on the eve of making a talk to the club at the Woman's Club this morning.

The composer was on his way to Chicago from Florida and was induced to stay over and address the club. He was interviewed at the Biltmore.

"Your club here is doing the right thing in increasing the size of its audiences," he said. "This affords the opportunity of reaching the masses of people with musical appeal, instead of directing the appeal solely to those who already appreciate it."

"Another thing you are doing here is to encourage your local talent. It isn't necessary that all your artists should be outsiders coming here from New York and other musical centers. You have good performers in Atlanta. They should be heard, too."

At this point Mr. Savine was asked the hoary question about the effect of jazz on the so-called classical compositions.

"Any method of expression, jazz included, depends on the sincerity of its conception," he said. "Any expression made sincerely, regardless of its form, commands respect. Inversely, insincerity spells failure, however ambitious the attempt may be."

Born in Belgrade in 1881, Mr. Savine at the age of 16 directed the Belgrade Choral Society at the royal court and cathedral. After a short career as an opera singer, he became a lecturer and a conductor of symphony orchestras in London, New York and Chicago and composed two operas, "Xenia" and the "Diplomat," as well as four symphonic poems.

M'DONALD MAY SUE TALMADGE, IS RULING

Personal Action May Be Taken, Georgia Supreme Court Decides.

G. L. McDonald, who was discharged in 1927 as a long-term fertilizer inspector by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, has the right to sue Talmadge personally and his bondsman, the National Surety Company, for a salary of $100 per month for 15 months and attorneys' fees, the supreme court decided Tuesday.

McDonald and other inspectors were removed by Talmadge soon after he succeeded J. J. Brown as commissioner. Suits against the state were rejected, but a personal suit against the commissioner and his bondsman, the court has ruled, must be heard. The hearing will be in Telfair county.

4 Oglethorpe Fraternity Chapters Low in Scholarship, Face Abolition

Four fraternities at Oglethorpe University were put on probation Tuesday by J. F. Sellers, dean of men, because of low scholastic standings. Kappa Alpha, Alpha Lambda Tau, Delta Sigma Phi, and Pi Kappa Phi were notified that unless their standings are higher at the end of the winter term, the university would ask that their charters be withdrawn. Only Theta Kappa Nu escaped the probation list.

Dean Sellers announced that he was invoking the Oglethorpe rule that all fraternities maintain a scholastic average as high as the general average for the whole university.

Dean Sellers based his action on the grades for the fall term, which were released Tuesday. The student body average was 78.5. The average of Kappa Alpha was 77.3; the Delta Sigma Phi average was 76.7; that of Pi Kappa Phi was 76.6; and the Alpha Lambda Tau average was 76. The average of Theta Kappa Nu, the only one above the student body average, was 79.6.

All four fraternities on probation, Dean Sellers said, will have to withdraw from the Oglethorpe campus unless they raise their average above that of the student body for the winter term.

Negro Sentenced. It is exceedingly bad etiquette to carry liquor into a courtroom, and far worse to drop it, it was revealed Tuesday when Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta, gave Miles McAfee, negro, four months on the chain gang for doing just that thing. The action took place in recorder's court recently. It was testified, when McAfee was there as a witness in a case.

WOMAN UNMOVED BY HEROIC RESCUE MADE BY HUSBAND

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Peter W. O'Byrne, 74, yesterday dove 25 feet into the harbor, swam 50 feet and rescued Irma Yeaton, 21, of Lynn, after a 10-minute struggle in the frigid water.

Swimming to a rope that was thrown to him, O'Byrne managed to tie it around the girl and she was dragged to safety. Then O'Byrne was left clinging to a pile while the girl was being revived.

It was several minutes later, after police had arrived, before any one thought of the aged hero. The crowd rushed to the end of the pier and found O'Byrne patiently waiting rescue himself. He was taken to a hospital, where he is recovering.

Mrs. O'Byrne failed to be impressed when told tonight of her husband's heroic act. "He is too old to be doing that sort of thing," she said. "He ought to be more careful. He will be getting his death of cold."

13 THEATER HEADS FACE TRIAL TODAY

Callaway Postpones
Tuesday Hearings After Tilt With Prosecutors.

WGST TO BROADCAST SUNDAY SHOW TRIAL

The trial of Atlanta theater managers in recorder's court will be picked up and broadcast over station WGST this afternoon in the first radio event of its kind in Atlanta. The words of judge, lawyers and witnesses will be picked up by microphones placed in the courtroom and carried to the Georgia Tech transmitter. Intended to give WGST audiences a graphic description of all that takes place in the courtroom, newspaper reporters will assist regular announcers in describing the scenes. Microphones will be so arranged that every word of all the principals will be broadcast. In making the announcement, L. L. Watson, manager of WGST, said that the station would start the broadcast at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Atlanta time.

Thirteen theater managers of Atlanta will face trial in recorder's court this afternoon on charges of violating Sunday movie picture ordinances, following the postponement of five cases scheduled to be heard before Recorder A. W. Callaway at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. He will hear the charges at 3 o'clock this afternoon and at 4:30 o'clock Recorder John L. Cone will start proceedings in connection with eight other cases.

The postponement of the five cases against neighborhood theater managers who opened shows Sunday afternoon came after sharp clashes between Recorder Callaway and the city prosecuting forces. What the cases were called, Assistant City Attorney Jack Savage, representing the city,

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Early Springtime Shrubbery Arrives Here

Six trucks and trailers came to Rich's Tuesday from Florida, bringing the season's first shrubbery. Thousands of shrubs were imported, including crape myrtle, japonica, jasmine, juniper and other varieties, which will dress up Atlanta homes for the national garden club meeting in the spring.

Informing the court that City Attorney James L. Mayson was unable to appear because he was trying a case in another court.

Recorder Callaway asserted he had heard that Mr. Mayson had said he would try no more cases before him, following the recorder's action several days ago in freeing Mrs. M. H. Margeson on charges of violating Sunday laws. Thereupon the court ruled that the cases would not be transferred to Recorder's Cone's session and all interested parties were notified to appear at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

13 Managers to Appear. Those ordered to appear at that hour and the theater managers are: A. H. Duran, Empire; G. W. Gaston, Madison; T. L. Anderson, Tenth Street; L. S. Batch, Alpha; John Thompson, West End. Those due to appear before Recorder Cone at 4:30 o'clock and their theaters are: Roy Youngblood, Fox; E. E. Whitaker, Keith's Georgia; L. W. Welford, Capitol; L. W. White, Grand; H. T. Kimmel, Rialto; G. T. Willy, Cameo; E. W. Hathcock, Palace; G. T. Bailey, Royal.

The 13 managers were arrested Sunday afternoon by two groups of detectives who set the cases for Tuesday morning and this afternoon. They were formally charged with violating section 3131 of the Atlanta code, which section, prosecuting attorneys claim, prohibits the operation of Sunday shows.

Sims, Smith for Defense. When court opened Tuesday morning Attorneys Walter Sims, former mayor of Atlanta, and Frank Smith represented the defense. Love Harrell, secretary of the Atlanta Theater Managers' Association, was present to aid in the defense.

Attorneys Jack Savage and Seals Aiken were present to prosecute the cases. Mr. Aiken having explained that he had been retained by a citizens' committee to aid in the prosecution. The courtroom was jammed as the cases were called Tuesday and indications were that another overflow crowd would be present at both sessions this afternoon.

Mrs. M. H. Margeson, who for the last several Sundays has operated the Paramount theater under auspices of a committee of the emergency relief committee, was not arrested Sunday. She was recently tried on charges of violating sections 3131 and 888 of the city ordinance and acquitted by Recorder Callaway.

JASPER, GA., MAYOR URGES U. S. TO USE MARBLE FOR P. O.

Concerted action to protest the use of Indiana limestone in erection of the new Atlanta postoffice building was taken Tuesday when R. M. Edge, mayor of Jasper, Ga., dispatched telegrams to the treasurer's office in Washington, senators and congressmen deploring the decision to use limestone in the building.

Other cities and towns in north Georgia were sending telegraphic protests along the same line. At a meeting of the city council of Jasper a resolution was passed deploring the use of the material and the telegram is as follows:

"We deplore the use of this inferior stone in the erection of such an important building and insist that the interest of the taxpayer citizen be considered along with the cost price and durability of building material. Our state capitol is built of Indiana limestone and has proven unsatisfactory both as to appearance and weathering qualities. It is unsightly and can not be cleaned. Atlanta being the gate city of the southeast is visited annually by thousands and should present in such a building a most attractive appearance."

"Georgia marble is quarried within 60 miles of Atlanta and its use would give employment to citizens of this state. Its beauty, strength and durability make it most desirable for this type of public building and we urgently recommend its use."

TWO ATLANTA WOMEN HURT IN FLORIDA CRASH

Atlanta relatives and friends of Mrs. Laurie K. Grayson, R. H. Stanton & Co., were communicating with authorities in Ocala, Fla., Tuesday night in an effort to learn the extent of injuries sustained by her Tuesday when the car she was driving turned over three times near Ocala, Miss. Mrs. Grayson, of Atlanta, in the car with Mrs. Guy, also was injured. Mrs. Guy and Miss Strozier left Atlanta Monday morning on a business trip to Tampa, Fla. No details of the accident were available in Atlanta, but Ocala authorities said the crash apparently was caused by excessive speed. Physicians at an Ocala hospital said they feared Mrs. Guy suffered a broken back. Injuries of Miss Strozier were said to have been less severe than those to Mrs. Guy. Mrs. Guy lives at 17 Seventeenth street, N. E.

$100 from a representative of the Elgin Street Sweeper Company and $500 from a representative of the Eureka Fire Hose Company to influence his official conduct in purchase of motor trucks for the city. In its opinion, the court, pointing out that the principal argument in the case was a matter for the jury to decide, said: "In the most notorious bribery case of recent times the sum of $100,000 delivered by Dobbs to Fall was, according to them, 'just a loan between two old friends.'"

SENATE BODY FAVORS MISSISSIPPI TAX BILLS

2,000 Merchants Expected
To Protest Measures in Jackson Today.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 16.—(P)—Twenty members of the senate finance committee this afternoon favorably reported four new revenue bills, one calling for a 2 per cent combination gross income and gross sales tax. The new revenue bills, brought out in a special afternoon session of the senate, included a 20 per cent tax on all tobacco, a uniform 10 per cent amusement tax, a 6-mill ad valorem levy, now at 8 mills, lower income tax brackets and increased rates on out of state insurance company premium rates. In making a favorable report on the bills the finance committee finds opposition on one side from state merchants who meet here tomorrow in protest against a sales tax, and on the other from backers of Governor Sennett Conner's 3 per cent sales tax proposal. The merchants will have their say tomorrow morning when 2,000 are expected to meet here.

Jacket Quintet Meets Mercer Tonight in Return Game Here; Bill Tilden Believes England Will Be Next Davis Cup Winner

JACKETS SEEK TO EVEN SCORE AGAINST BEARS

Teams To Meet in Second Game at Auditorium Tonight.

The Georgia Tech basketball team that conquered Auburn by eight points last Saturday night, will swing into action again tonight at the auditorium, this time with the Mercer Bears as the opposition.

The game will start at 8:15 o'clock. There will be a preliminary attraction between the Tech freshmen, who have been having a big season, and Canton High school, Alma mater of Bill Perkins.

This game will start at 7 o'clock. Having reached a peak in crushing Auburn, the Jackets are eager to make a clean sweep of their three remaining games so as to get properly tuned up for the conference tournament, which is only a short time off.

BEARS ONE UP.

There is a double incentive in defeating Mercer tonight, as Lake Russell's Bears captured a sensational victory over the Jackets back in January by a single point—40 to 39.

The Mercer team will furnish plenty of opposition, too, for they have a fighting aggregation that played two close games with Georgia and lost by a few points to the New York Celtics. The Bears have been improving steadily and hope to make a good showing in the first Dixie conference tournament to be staged in Birmingham, March 1, 2 and 3.

In Captain Wilkes, gazelle-like forward, of Adel, Ga., Mercer has one of the greatest forwards in the south. Wilkes was high point man in both Georgia contests and tallied 20 points on the Celtics. He and Joe Popko, flashy running guard and a good floor man, figured largely in defeating Tech. It was a foul shot by Popko after the game had ended that scored the victory point.

Tonight marks Mercer's first visit to Atlanta for a basketball game in several years and a large crowd is expected to turn out to welcome the Bears, who are old rivals of Tech in basketball. There is a vast number of Mercer alumni residing here.

Coach Roy Mundorff last night reported his players in better physical trim than they were for the Auburn game. Perkins in tonight's game. He has been out with a bad knee all year but has improved and Mundorff may test him out as Perkins' first sub.

It may be Korf, Katz or Slocum.

RAINES MAY PLAY.

There is a good chance of Theo Raines, former star center from Vienna, getting in tonight's game. He has been out with a bad knee all year but has improved and Mundorff may test him out as Perkins' first sub.

Admission will be 50 and 75 cents.

G. M. A. RINGMEN DEFEAT PURPLE

G. M. A. won the opening round of pro league boxing over Boys' High, 6-2, Tuesday night in the Henry Grady gymnasium. The Cadets will meet Tech High Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the same ring.

J. Gager, a member of the Cadet football team, scored the only knockout of the evening when he floored Asa Candler, a Boys' High football star, after 30 seconds of right and left to Candler's head. Irby, G. M. A. light-heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Dick Beard, Boys' High, in the second round.

As an added attraction, Carswell Smith (141) won a 4-round decision over Nat Klausman (139), in an all Boys' High grade match.

The result: Flyweight—Barker, G. M. A., lost to Fancher, B. H. S. Featherweight—Parker, G. M. A., beat Leathers, B. H. S. Lightweight—Silva, G. M. A., beat Johnson, B. H. S. Welterweight—Wills, G. M. A., beat Barrett, B. H. S. Middleweight—Parker, G. M. A., knocked out Candler, B. H. S. Light-heavyweight—Irby, G. M. A., won technical K. O. over Beard, B. H. S. Heavyweight—Gager, G. M. A., beat Duval, B. H. S. Carswell Smith (141) beat Nat Klausman (139).

WRESTLING.

Fred Buckins beat John Morris in 35 seconds. George Chittie drew with Dick Jones, 10 seconds. Referee: Cline, Kell, Timmer, B. Hadley and A. D. Chapman.

Niehoffs Leave Atlanta Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Niehoff, popular winter residents of Decatur, Ga., are planning their departure for Chattanooga, where Bert managed the baseball club of the Southern league.

They leave Atlanta the last of the week. Before going to Chattanooga, however, they plan to visit Mrs. George Stallings, widow of the late baseball leader, at her home in Haddock, Ga., and then go to Marietta for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Niehoff are old friends of the Stallings family.

Strib and Hunt Stop Over--As Does Big Bill Tilden

who arrived Tuesday, fights here Friday night with Pietro Corri as his opponent. And at the right is none other than Big Bill Tilden, greatest tennis player the world ever knew, indulging in his favorite non-competitive sport—reading a detective novel. Tilden played at the auditorium Tuesday night in an exhibition tennis tournament. An interesting interview in which he predicts England as the winner of the Davis cup, appears on this page. Photos by Kenneth Rogers.

It seems that the football rules committee was not stampeded at all. On the other hand it does seem that some of the writers and coaches were pretty badly stampeded into making snap judgment. Or such is the opinion of Coach W. A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech, and H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at Georgia and member of the football rules committee, who returned Tuesday from the meeting.

The game has not been harmed one bit by the new football rules. It has been made safer and more attractive. It is difficult to understand why a rule prohibiting the striking of an opponent on the head or neck would be interpreted as meaning the end of line play as now taught. And yet it was.

As a matter of fact use of the hands is not restricted in any way except in the striking of blows. And surely no one would argue that the senseless pounding of offensive players should be permitted. The players themselves wanted this rule.

"The use of hands is not restricted," said Stegeman. "The defensive player may still use his hands to shove, to fend off, to pull forward or backward. He cannot draw his arm back and strike a blow as was permitted under the old rule which allowed a blow by the palm of the hand. It was thus impossible to tell whether the heel of the hand or the palm struck the opposing player." But legitimate use of hands is not interfered with.

"The only change in the game will be on the kick-off," said Stegeman. "The remainder of it remains the same."

NOT A STAMPED COURSE.

The rules committee worked in conjunction with three agencies which had spent thousands of dollars and many hours in investigating football injuries and the best methods of combating them.

The best minds in the football game met in serious consideration of the rules. They found that more than 3,000,000 men and boys played football last season. Of more than 40 deaths only 21 were attributed to football, a small percentage considering the millions playing.

The committee was actuated by a desire to lessen these fatalities. A check by three investigating agencies, aided by the machinery of investigation used by a large life insurance company in its statistical department, gave a complete check on each injury.

The flying tackle by poorly coached players, the flying block, used seldom by well-coached men; the hard knee and thigh pads, piling on and the flying wedge on kick-offs were all indicted. Legislation corrects these evils without making it necessary for coaches to change their style of play one bit.

To call such action foolish is unjust criticism. Surely Howard Jones, whose California team was national champion; Alonzo Stagg, who has been in the game nearly half a century; Fielding H. Yost, who is one of its great figures; and our southern representatives did not make fools of themselves.

They say they will not have to change a single play they have. If words of football wisdom won't come from those men they won't be found anywhere else. The public will see a change on the kick-off and nothing

HUNT AND CORRI BOTH ON SCENE

Principals in Abelson's Show Here Will Work Out Today.

Both principals of Max Abelson's heavyweight boxing show at the auditorium Friday night have arrived on the scene.

Pietro Corri, the big Austrian from New York, came into the city by train last night, while Babe Hunt, the celebrated Oklahoma "zusher" who is to be his opponent, reached Atlanta yesterday.

Hunt, who weighs 198 pounds, looked particularly impressive in a workout at Jack Denham's gym yesterday. He is one of the big fellows of the game.

Corri will work out for the first time today at 1 p. m. at Jack Denham's gym, while Hunt will work at 2. The public is invited to watch the workout. Max Abelson was busy lining up sparring partners yesterday.

The promoter has stated that if Jake Denning, semi-finalist on Friday night's card, wins his bout, he will be matched in a 10-rounder with Clyde Chastain on the Dempsey card here March 4.

Tickets for the Hunt-Corri show went on sale downtown yesterday. They can be bought at the Hotel Wilton, the $2 and $4 coffee shop. Prices are $3, $2 and $1.

GEORGIA BOXERS ENTER TOURNEY

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP)—University of Georgia boxers won the right to represent their school in the Southern conference boxing tournament in Charlottesville, Va., February 26-27, by emerging victorious in the finals of the intramural tournament here tonight.

William Bell David, reserve football halfback from Calhoun, Ga., defeated Carroll Latimer, Atlanta, in an extra round fight for the middleweight championship. David earned a decision over Latimer by a spurt in the extra round.

Jack Sullivan (148), Savannah, won a three-round decision over Morris Goodman (147), New York city, in the welterweight class.

Joe Burkhalter (130), Thomasville, put on the best performance of the evening in defeating Jack Rogers, of Athens, for the lightweight championship.

Nat Rifkinson (128), New York city, won a decision from Phil Curtis (128), Thomasville, in the featherweight class. Birmingham, Athens, won a forfeit from Willis Lawrenceville, in the bantamweight class.

Three freshmen won letters by defeating classmates in preliminaries to the main bouts. Bell (128), Lawrenceville, won on a technical knockout from McCay (129), Ill.; Swift (137), Columbus, defeated Dorsey (137), Marietta, and Chambliss (163), Haddock, won from Cavender (161), of Millwood.

Perkins' Mark Seems Safe This Year

By Dillon Graham,

Bill Perkins, Georgia Tech's gangling center, has no chance of winning the Southern conference basketball high scoring honors again this year but his record of 148 points made in 1931 seems safe from all assaults.

Perkins, key man of Tech's fast-moving offense, averaged better than nine points per game in 16 contests a year ago. He made 64 field goals and 20 foul shots.

With this season almost ended, Bill has but 63 points with only two games left to play.

In 1930 Washington and Lee's forward, Harris Cox, and center, Leigh Williams, jointly established the conference mark of 131 points.

Forrest Sale, Kentucky center, and Harris Samuels, Louisiana State forward, are leading the conference scorers this year, but both are far behind Perkins' pace and have small prospects of passing his total.

Sale, who has made 122 points in nine games, has but one more opportunity, against Vanderbilt Saturday, to break the record.

Samuels now is four points behind Sale, but has a better chance to finish at the top of the parade and threaten the record than has Sale, for Samuels has two games to play, both with Tulane Friday and Saturday.

He will need 31 points to make himself the new record-holder.

Only a few of 1931's stars have figured in this year's race. Hugh Gooding, Georgia Tech forward, second last season with 122 points, has made but 62 this season, while Bill Strickland, Georgia center, third in 1931 with 121, has only 78. Mayo, Virginia, and Schwartz, Vanderbilt, forwards, are way down the list with 38 and 66 points, respectively, in conference games this season.

Jordan and Lumpkin, Auburn guards, and Berzer, Maryland guard, are three of last year's leaders who have continued their crack shooting. Lumpkin now is fourth with 101 points.

Southeastern Open Tourney Cancelled

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP)—The annual southeastern open golf tournament, which has been played at Augusta for the past several years, has been cancelled for this season, in 1931.

Last year the famous trick artist, Joe Kirkwood, won this event and the year before Bobby Jones captured first place. It was in this tournament that Jones said he played his best golf. He finished 13 strokes ahead of Horton Smith and the other professionals after losing five strokes to par on the last three holes.

PURPLE BEATS MONROE, 27-25

G. M. A. Downs Madison, 35-24; Cadets Meet Monroe Today.

Boys' High and G. M. A. varsity teams added another victory to their string Tuesday afternoon in the semifinals of the Big Six basketball schedule.

In triumph, Tilden obtained some satisfaction for two defeats young Nusslein inflicted on him in Florida last week, hand running.

He and the young German will meet in Madison Square Garden Saturday night for the world's professional championship.

The tension was relieved, however, with the advent of the doubles, in which the Germans, Roman Najuah and Nusslein, defeated Tilden and Al Burke, 6-4, 6-3. There was lots of good-humored banter passed back and forth between the players and the spectators. The crowd got a feature not anticipated when Tilden and his troupe played on a solid wood court.

The players carry their own canvas court with them, but it did not arrive in time.

Play was lightning fast on the wood and the players gave a marvelous exhibition, considering the inferior lighting.

In the opening match, Najuah, veteran German champ of 12 years, beat young Burke 6-4, 6-2.

Promoter Henry Weber estimated the crowd at under 2,000, due to the inclement weather.

Cadets Beat Madison, 35-24.

G. M. A. retained third place in the Big Six varsity league with a 35-24 victory over Madison Aggies Tuesday afternoon the College Park court.

After a slow first half in which the score was tied at 12-all at the intermission, the Cadets began a barrage of field goals in the second half and increased their advantage. G. M. A. was ahead all through the third and fourth periods, with Allison, Chase and Burns leading the way.

Madison's forwards were so well covered that the guards took over the offense and registered 21 of the 24 points and a majority of those were made from long range.

THE LINEUPS.

G. M. A. will meet the Monroe Aggies at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the College Park court in a postponed double-header from last week. The B team will play the preliminary game.

IOWA SLATE.

Iowa State College will play five Big Six conference football games next fall, and three games outside the loop.

Tilden Beats Nusslein Here

Big Bill Tilden got revenge on the young man he predicts will some day be a world's champion, when he defeated Hans Nusslein, smooth-stroking German, in straight sets last night at the auditorium, 7-5, 8-6.

In triumph, Tilden obtained some satisfaction for two defeats young Nusslein inflicted on him in Florida last week, hand running.

He and the young German will meet in Madison Square Garden Saturday night for the world's professional championship.

The tension was relieved, however, with the advent of the doubles, in which the Germans, Roman Najuah and Nusslein, defeated Tilden and Al Burke, 6-4, 6-3. Campbell Gets Kick Out of Quiet Checkers

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Strange as it may seem, the world's fastest racing car driver, Sir Malcolm Campbell, of England, gets a great kick out of a good old-fashioned game of checkers.

The game is one to which he takes a particular liking as a means of keeping his mind off the forthcoming attempt to break his own world's automobile speed record of 245 miles per hour as soon as beach conditions permit.

He sits and plays checkers by the hour with the same skill and thoroughness as it is played by farmer folk at country stores or by professionals.

After breakfast he likes to take his board and drive to some secluded spot far down the beach for a series of games with his friend and traveling companion, Basil Eyston, who accompanied him here from England. Other times they play together at a table in their hotel suite.

"He is a fine player, and a hard one to beat," says Eyston, who usually comes out on the short end of the game.

Checkers are only one of the many hobbies enjoyed by the 47-year-old driver, but the greatest of them is racing. He plays an average game of golf and obtains a great amount of pleasure from boating.

'BUNNY' AUSTIN IS CALLED BEST BRITISH PLAYER

Big Bill Says Cochet Wants To Turn Professional.

By Ralph McGill.

William T. Tilden II, the greatest tennis player the world ever knew and very likely the greatest it ever will know, thinks England will win the Davis cup now held by France.

Tilden had already said some time ago that he believed France would be able to defeat the American team again this year. His estimate of the English team is of utmost importance to those speculating on the Davis cup competition, emblematic of world supremacy.

Fred Perry, the brilliant English star, is not as good as Bunny Austin, in the opinion of Tilden. This was another bit of information contrary to the general belief in American tennis circles.

"Austin has never shown his real game in America," said Tilden, "but I believe that he is superior to Perry and that the two of them will win the cup for England."

Tilden also believes that Henri Cochet, the dazzling French star who along with Gene Borotra has enabled France to dominate the tennis world for the past two years, will turn professional after the Davis cup matches.

WANTS TO TROUPE.

"Cochet wants to troupe the world as I am doing," said Tilden, "but I do not think he will be able to do so. I am inclined to think that he will join us next year and play as a guest star. I am sure, however, that he is going to enter the professional ranks as soon as the games are done."

As for the Americans the tall, lanky genius of the courts sees Ellsworth Vines and Sidney Wood as the best of the present day stars. Neither of them has perfected the game as yet. Of the two Tilden likes Wood's tennis "instinct" best.

Of the young players Frank Parker, the Milwaukee youngster, is best. "I never saw a player who could get the ball in the center of his racket as does Parker," said Tilden. "When he gets it at all he gets it in the center of his racket. He has power and everything to make a great player. One can't tell, however, about the young players. Sometimes they go haywire."

IN FINE SHAPE.

Tilden, who is nearing 40 years of age, looks to be in marvellous condition. He has to be. "I'm tramping," he said. "I am playing in the afternoons and nights. And almost every night."

He has a great enthusiasm for Hans Nusslein, the 21-year-old German star who is with him. "He has all the stuff of the tennis association much more initiative and power," said Tilden. "Within two years I think he will be the best player in the world. He's the only fellow I've met who could beat me twice running."

The two play Saturday night at New York for the world's professional tennis championship of the world.

Tilden is the implacable foe of the tennis association. They will be forced to make amateur rules to fit modern civilization," he said. "It requires about $5,000 a year to play tennis and a fellow with a job or a fellow without that money can't play under the rules."

FOR THE RICH.

"There is nothing dishonest about the game. It's the men in charge are making it so that only a man of independent means can play it. I look for an open tournament only when the officials of the tennis association become broadminded enough to see the desirability of it."

The big fellow is terribly busy. In addition to his tennis he writes syndicates and newspapers. In his spare moments he likes to read detective novels. And he reads them by the hundreds. He was busy with one when interviewed Tuesday morning at his hotel room.

Tilden has been a tremendous figure in the tennis world for years. He has won more titles than any other man. And his play in golf was something no other man has done.

It was a very pretty compliment for Jones. But still Tilden was about as dominant in his game as was Jones in golf. They stand out as the two greatest competitive athletes the world has ever produced.

BUSINESSMEN AID DRIVE FOR JOBLESS

Atlanta Leaders Meet With Legion Heads and Pledge Co-operation.

The Georgia division of the American Legion Tuesday night asked business interests of the state to volunteer for service in the war against depression launched by the national organization of the Legion, and representatives of virtually every civic interest in Atlanta announced they were ready and willing to serve.

In a meeting held in the civic room of the Ansley hotel, and attended by a large group of representative citizens, final plans were completed for organization of a "general staff," the membership of which includes business, labor and civic leaders, and the drive to relieve unemployment in this city was officially launched.

In charge of the meeting were Commander Trammell Scott, of the Atlanta post; Captain William A. Simon, state adjutant, and Basil Stockbridge, member of the Georgia department's special commission on unemployment.

Committee Appointed.
The following committee was appointed by Major Scott to meet at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and proceed with plans for the canvassing of the city for jobs for men now out of work:

Josiah T. Rose, chairman; Russell R. Whitman, John Paschall, Herbert Porter, Clark Howell Jr., A. Steve Nance, R. K. Rambo, Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge, Mrs. Arthur H. Hazzard, Dr. Raymond S. Thayer, William G. McRae, Roy LeCraw, T. K. Glenn, and Mrs. J. G. C. Bloodworth.

A sub-committee was appointed by Chairman Rose to meet at 10 o'clock of Mr. Glenn in the Trust Company of Georgia building at 10 o'clock this morning to determine whether the Atlanta Community Chest could assist by supplying the Legion canvassers with a list of zones and potential employers who may take on more workers. The following were named as this sub-committee:

Mr. Rose, chairman; Mr. Whitman, Mr. Nance, Mrs. Hazzard, Frank Miller, Captain Simon, John M. Slaton Jr. and Dr. Thayer.

Campaign Explained.

The purpose of the Legion's nationwide campaign to find jobs for approximately 7,000,000 unemployed persons was explained in detail by Mr. Stockbridge, who recently returned from a conference in New York with National Commander Henry Stevens.

It was emphasized by Mr. Stockbridge that the drive is not for the purpose of finding jobs for former service men, or for putting back to work only unemployed union men, notwithstanding that the American Federation of Labor is standing back of the campaign.

Communications from State Commander Quimby Melton, of Griffin, were read, as well as from the national headquarters of the Legion reporting the results of the first day's efforts. Commander Melton announced he had requested the following to serve on a citizens' statewide committee:

Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., R. W. Woodruff, John H. Cheatham, Mills B. Lane, Preston S. Arkwright, Thomas K. Glenn, Tom Huston, W. C. Venable, Dr. Andrew M. Soule, Frank Lanier, Jack Williams and C. J. Haden.

The following attended Tuesday evening's meeting:

Richard W. Alger, J. Sid Tiller, A. Steve Nance, Ben T. Huiet, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McRae, Josiah T. Rose, J. A. Peterson, Mrs. Arthur Hazzard, James L. Nicholson, Mrs. Edgar Alexander, James L. Smith, C. L. Emerson, John A. Brice, John Paschall, R. K. Rambo, Mrs. J. G. C. Bloodworth, Fred Shaefer, Russell R. Whitman, J. G. C. Bloodworth Jr., Dr. J. M. Toomey, S. A. Mitchell, Fonville McWhorter, Tom Cornell, Charles E. DuPre, John E. Stoy, James F. Morrison, Fred Morris Sr., Frank Troutman, E. P. Campbell, F. S. Chalmers, William B. Graham and P. S. Mitchell.

Disgusted Coal Operator Turns Mine Over to Men

LA POLETTE, Tenn., Feb. 16. (P)—Miners at the Res-Jellico Coal Company mine, one of the largest and oldest in Tennessee, have been given a chance to operate it themselves.

"I'm through with it," Paul Francis, president of the company, said. "If any of the men want to run it, I'll turn it over to them." George Bennett, mine foreman, has taken up the offer.

"I'll try it for a few days, to give some of the men work," he said. Bennett said he would operate a section of the mine and if it does not pay, it will be closed.

16,867 UNEMPLOYED GET JOBS IN ONE DAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (P)—The national campaign to obtain 1,000,000 jobs for the jobless resulted in 16,867 men and women being placed in positions on the first day, headquarters figures showed tonight.

The campaign began yesterday and the first day's results were based on reports received up to noon today. The campaign was undertaken by the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the Association of National Advertisers and the Legion Auxiliary. Field committees have been organized throughout the country to canvass employers for additional jobs.

Mark T. McKee, executive director, and Carol Byoir, director of the organization, summarized the opening day's results as showing it was "not beyond the power of the American people to put a million unemployed wage-earners or more back on pay rolls."

Among the states, Wisconsin led with 4,577 wage earners placed in 10 communities.

The tabulation showed the following jobs reported by committees in Georgia cities: Atlanta, 22; Macon, 21; Thomaston, 28; Barnesville, 6.

STUDEBAKER SHOWS ITS GLASS SAFETY

Studebaker's eightieth anniversary, 30 years of its business life having been devoted to the manufacture of motor cars, was celebrated Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday of this week by the Yarbrough Motor Company with a display of the latest models, demonstrations of safety glass protection, and other innovations.

W. A. Wood, of the Studebaker factory, will conduct the glass demonstration. Pretty Atlanta girls are permitting the attempted shattering of glass near their faces, this shattering being attempted with hammer blows. Visitors are being shown armor-plated bodies, steel running boards, stream lining, free wheeling, automatic starting, ride control and other innovations of the new models, all of which are on display, including the convertible sedan, St. Regis brougham and all-weather convertible roadster, are in a wide range of colors.

The safety glass demonstrations occur every night. As most serious accidents are caused by smashed glass, the importance of this demonstration is proved, Mr. Wood said.

There were numerous dots, several of them adjacent to the White House, the veterans' bureau and the capitol.

A
90 million dollar

why Chesterfields are Better!

Just think what this means for Chesterfield smokers. It means that the larger part of 90 million dollars is invested in Domestic and Turkish tobaccos that are being properly aged in Nature's way, and cured so as to make them sweeter and milder. CHESTERFIELD tobacco is packed in wooden casks, each containing about 1,000 pounds and stored for two years in modern, up-to-date warehouses. These warehouses, if placed end-to-end, would be about four miles in length. From floor to ceiling they are filled with these casks of fine tobacco, ageing in Nature's slow but sure way. It takes a lot of money to make a good cigarette—money to buy good tobaccos and money to age them properly. CHESTERFIELDS are milder, and taste better... there's a 90 million dollar reason why! Just try them!

Mrs. Eugene Harrington Elected On Tallulah Board of Trustees

Highlights of the midwinter meeting of the trustees of Tallulah Falls school, held at the Henry Grady hotel Tuesday afternoon and evening, featured the election of Mrs. Eugene Harrington as a member of the board of trustees; the dinner in compliment to Miss Marian Woodward, who was elected a trustee at the October meeting, and to Mrs. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, a new vice president of the board, and to the 12 newly elected district presidents of Georgia Federation, who are Tallulah school trustees by virtue of their office; and the presence at the dinner of representatives of the Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah Falls school, who brought to the trustees a gift of $1,000 for the school.

Mrs. Lamar Presides.
Mrs. Eugene Harrington, of Macon, first vice president of the board, was in the chair and Mrs. John K. Ottley, the president, Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Hardman, the vice presidents, were present. Mrs. Price Gilbert acted as secretary and Mrs. Price Smith, treasurer, gave the financial report of the school, and Mrs. Lamar emphasized the continuing interest she felt for Tallulah, the school which is owned and operated by Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. At the dinner, where an abundance of yellow spring flowers were used, Mrs. S. V. Sanford was presented with a hand-woven rug as a memento of her two years' service as president of the Georgia Federation of Clubs and loyal friend of Tallulah. Mrs. Sanford expressed continued devotion to Tallulah. Mrs. M. E. Judd and Mrs. W. B. Smith, vice presidents of Georgia Federation, were present.

Introduction of Honor Guests.
Mrs. Charles J. Haden introduced Miss Marian Woodward, new trustee, appearing for the first time at a meeting of the board of trustees, as a valuable and warmly welcomed not only for herself but as the daughter of those devoted friends of education, the late Mr. and Mrs. David Woodward. Miss Woodward responded gracefully and told of the keen interest she felt in a recent visit to the school, not as an onlooker merely but as a member of the board of control responsible for the school's well-being. Mrs. L. G. Hardman was unavoidably absent, but was made present of the fact that the trustee meeting of last February met at the executive mansion of the state as the guest of Mrs. Harrington—then the first lady of Georgia—the occasion being one of unusual pleasure and helpfulness.

Mrs. Eugene Harrington, the newest trustee, was presented by Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright, honorary president of the Atlanta Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah Falls school, who expressed great pride in her election as a very suitable compliment to the Young Matrons' Circle, of which Mrs. Harrington was a past president and a permanent worker and continual inspiration. She stated that though Mrs. Harrington had been "Tallulah-minded" long before the Young Matrons' Circle had come into being, she was greatly loved by the circle and no appointment could possibly be more pleasing to Mrs. Arkwright and the splendid group of young women working so effectively for Tallulah.

Mrs. Harrington, who was completely surprised at the announcement of her election, acknowledged the compliment with full appreciation, stating that no matter how tired or jaded she might be, Tallulah Falls schools could always give her the "thrill of a lifetime."

Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick felt honored in presenting the district presidents, all of whom were elected or re-elected at their district meetings last autumn. All made apt and timely responses, showing a serious determination to hold their districts to the best ideals of Georgia Federation.

District presidents who are trustees of Tallulah Falls school were presented as follows: Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, president of first district; Mrs. A. B. Conger, second district; Mrs. John F. MacDougal, fifth district; Mrs. Hartford L. Green, sixth district; Mrs. Ralph E. Butler, seventh district; Mrs. A. D. McCurry, ninth district; Mrs. S. G. Lang, tenth district; Mrs. Edwin Jarman, eleventh district; Mrs. Howell Mullis, twelfth district.

In the absence of Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, president of the eighth district, and Mrs. Howard H. McCall, who undertook to provide the Uncle Lewis' Christmas tree for the children, which had for several years been provided by the late Lewis H. Beck, a report was made of the beautiful things sent to the school, and the great pleasure which they gave to the children. Mrs. Ritchie had divided the list of boys and girls with their names and ages among a number of young college students at the university who had taken the greatest pleasure in choosing and wrapping suitable gifts of which each girl presented one. The board agreed that no tribute could have pleased Uncle Lewis so greatly and passed a vote of thanks to Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Ritchie and every young woman who took part in this tribute.

Mrs. Lamar Rucker, of Athens, stated that the Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah in Athens gave a most successful "depression" dance, which was exceedingly merry in spite of its name and cleared a nice sum for the school. The board expressed pleasure and the wish that other groups of young women would follow the example of Athens Young Matrons' Circle, which is under the presidency of Mrs. Murray Soule.

Two Great Needs.
Mrs. Ottley, president of the board of trustees, thanked Mrs. Lamar for her graceful service as presiding officer and mentioned the two great present needs of the school—a small hospital or infirmary and a deep well sunk high up on Cherokee mountain, to insure an adequate and unchanging supply of pure water for the school. "Surely," said Mrs. Ottley, "our friends will help us if we ask them for this 'cup of cold water for our children.'"

In the absence of Mrs. Ben Parker, president Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah, that organization was represented by its first vice president, Mrs. Martin Kilpatrick, who brought greetings from the circle, and in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Aleck S. Hopkins, presented a check of $1,000 for the work of the school which all young matrons love so much. The three past presidents of the Young Matrons' Circle were present and Mrs. Lawrence Willet and Mrs. Bernard Neal spoke of the great pride they felt in the election of a trustee of their highly-valued association, Mrs. Eugene Harrington.

Mrs. Bolling Jones paid tribute to the late Mrs. Inez Wilkins Jones, a long valued trustee of Tallulah Falls school and the founder of the Inez Wilkins Jones perpetual scholarship, who passed away at Treutlen, Ga., her home in Waynesboro, on December 27, 1931. The board observed a period of silence in tribute to Mrs. Jones' memory and the memorial was ordered sent to her family.

A letter from the State Association for Education Georgia Mountaineers was read, which stated that this organization had disbanded as a tribute to its founder, and only president, the late Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, of Savannah, who was a great loss to the organization, always a loyal friend to Tallulah, but appreciation was expressed for the feeling towards Mrs. Morgan which prompted this action. As a tribute to Mrs. Morgan, who passed away on June 28, 1931, the association for Education Georgia Mountaineers had established the S. B. C. Morgan Memorial Health Clinic at Tallulah. Mrs. Morgan was honorary president of the board of trustees of Tallulah Falls school and perpetual scholarships are maintained at the school, both in Mrs. Morgan's name and in that of the State Association for Education Georgia Mountaineers, so that both Mrs. Morgan and the association will be permanently remembered at Tallulah.

Columbus Representatives.
Much interest was expressed in the introduction by Mrs. Sanford of the representatives of the Columbus Federation of Clubs, which will be the host of the Georgia Federation at its biennial convention next May. Mrs. J. O. McGhee, president Columbus Federation; Mrs. T. Charlton Hudson and Mrs. Nunnally Johnson all joined in a cordial invitation to all present to come and "talk Tallulah" at Columbus in May.

Mrs. Murdoch Walker, president Atlanta Federation, presented Miss Helen Coyne Riley, of the Juillard Music Foundation, who told of her music work with the students at Tallulah Falls school.

Mrs. Lamar presided with great grace and charm, adding to the interest of the changing speakers by her rare gift of humor and seriousness, in which a clever story only led up to an earnest plea for the "Light in the Mountains" which gives a chance to life through education to so many splendid young mountain girls and boys.

Trustees and visitors present at dinner were Mesdames John K. Ottley, Walter D. Lamar, Z. I. Fitzpatrick, L. G. Hardman, Price Gilbert, Price Smith, H. H. Tift, Bolling Jones, Charles J. Haden, James E. Hays, Lamar Rucker, S. V. Sanford, Preston S. Arkwright, Elizabeth T. Winship, James E. Hickey, and Misses Rosa Woodberry, Sarah Moser and Marian Woodward.

District president trustees: Mrs. R. M. Girardeau, of Claxton; Mrs. A. B. Conger, of Bainbridge; Mrs. John F. MacDougal, of Atlanta; Mrs. Hartford L. Green, of Zebulon; Mrs. Ralph E. Butler, of Dallas; Mrs. A. D. McCurry, of Winder; Mrs. S. G. Lang, of Sandersville; Mrs. Edwin Jarman, of Baxley; Mrs. Howell Mullis, of Cochran.

Special guests were: Mrs. M. E. Judd, Mrs. W. B. Smith, vice presidents of Georgia Federation; Mrs. Robert K. Rambo, General Federation director; Mrs. Murdoch Walker, president of Atlanta Federation; Mrs. George H. Wilcox, Tallulah chairman for fifth district; Miss Helen Coyne Riley, Juillard Music Foundation; Mrs. J. O. McGhee, president of Columbus Federation; Mrs. T. Charlton Hudson and Mrs. Nunnally Johnson, of Columbus; Mrs. G. L. Cate, Brunswick; Mrs. Allen Strickland, Valdosta; Mrs. Edward Pusey, Athens, and the following members of the Young Matrons' Circle: Mrs. Martin Kilpatrick, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Willet, Eugene Harrington and Bernard Neal, past presidents.

FAT Does Go In This Easy Way

Millions of people, the world over, have learned in late years the right way to keep slender. To gain new beauty, youth and vigor. You see that everywhere. Excess fat and sluggish vim are nowhere near so common as they were.

The great reason is this: Modern medical science has discovered a great cause of excess fat. It lies in a scanty gland secretion. Food which should create fuel and energy goes to excess fat.

Now doctors, the world over, supply that lacking factor. And note how conditions have changed.

This right method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. A medical laboratory, famous the world over, prepares them for this purpose. They supply this right method at small cost, in right form. Marmola has been used for 24 years, millions of boxes of it. It stands today, as always, the chief help in reduction. Now there are multitudes of people to testify what Marmola has done for them.

If your figure is abnormal, if your vim has decreased, go get Marmola. All druggists supply it at $1 a box. A book in each box gives the formula and explains the amazing results. Do what others have done—get the results they won. Don't wait longer—don't stay over-fat.

"I was weak and could not do my work," writes Mrs. C. O. Sutton, of Elizabeth, Ind.

"I had pains in my back and side. It seemed like when I would get up, I would drag around to do my work, and had bad headache. My mother told me to try Cardui. She had taken it herself, and had found it a good medicine. I took several bottles of Cardui and it helped me very much."

Cardui is a purely vegetable, "building-up" medicine. Thousands of women have reported that it helped them to overcome certain womanly troubles due to weakness.

Sold at drug stores.

The home was decorated with pink roses and at one end of the long drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, was arranged a background of palms and ferns, and on either side

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left for Washington, D. C., where the latter is engaged in business.

The bride was given in a Vionnet model of shrimp beige crepe dress trimmed in Egyptian lace. Her hat was an Agnes model of brown made of velvet and faced with shagreen braid. Her costume was of a shimmering color cherra cloth, form-fitting with new shoulder cape with collar of cacon ermine to match. Completing her costume was a shoulder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: We are discouraged. Our teacher is a young man just married a year ago. We can't do anything to please him. He is so fault-finding we have about reached the place that we hate to go to school. Please make some suggestions as to how we can get better treatment at his hands. We always know our lessons.

ANSWER: Girls, you know your teacher's pet is don't you? It's the boy or girl that gets "A" on all his or her studies and also on his or her deportment. It is only human for the teacher to be partial to the student that does his duty and gives no trouble. Of course, if the teacher is tactful and clever he is able to conceal his preference and to treat all the pupils alike. But he is there to teach. His success or failure is measured by the way he does, or does not, accomplish what he sets out to do. The girls that giggle and the boys that throw "spit balls" not only neglect their own business but they make it hard for the other pupils to attend to their business and they make it impossible for the teacher to give his attention to his classes.

Being human, a teacher is subject to outside influences beyond the confines of his classroom. If he is physically sick, or if he has domestic and financial worries, these things tend to make him irritable and fault-finding. But even then, if a pupil does his duty the chances are nine to ten that the teacher won't vent his ill humor on the ones that are co-operating with him, but rather on the one that make it hard for him to do his teaching.

You claim that you know your lessons. Ask him if he considers you efficient students. You claim that you can't do anything to please him. Ask him what you are doing that frets him. If there is personal animosity between you, he can't teach you and you can't learn. Have a private interview with him, one at a time. If he gives you a "clean bill of health" and view him to the school authorities. If he acknowledges that he has been unfair to you, the very acknowledgment will be a pledge that he will fair.

MONKEY-FACE HAS A QUIET CHUCKLE.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

A ready wit knows what to say, or, if he is a little slow, he knows when to be silent. But wisdom when the tongue to stay. —Monkey-face.

Monkey-face, the Barn Owl, was beginning to be worried. The nesting season was approaching. Most Owls, as you know, nest very early in the year. Mrs. Monkey-face had firmly announced that she would go back to the church belfry where they were now living in Farmer Brown's barn. Monkey-face knew that if she did go back he would go, too, and he didn't want to go back. He was perfectly satisfied with where they now were. The barn was comfortable, very comfortable, and the hunting was good. The only thing wrong had been the difficulty in finding a satisfactory place in the barn for raising a family. He had had to admit that Mrs. Monkey-face was quite right in her objections to such places as they had found.

Then Farmer Brown's Boy had taken a hand. Way up on the topmost rafters, just under the roof, he had built a little room. It really was a sort of big box with one end open. He had built it right on the favorite perching place of those Owls and this, together with the noise of the hammering and sawing, had quite upset them, especially Mrs. Monkey-face. When at last he finished the job and left them in peace she was filled with suspicion. It was then that she decided that she would go back to her old home just as soon as nesting time arrived.

One night he remained out hunting a little longer than she did. When he entered the barn through the gable window he flew straight to that perch in the little room built by Farmer Brown's Boy. There sat Mrs. Monkey-face.

"I have been thinking," said she, "that it is high time for us to make up our minds where we will raise a family this year."

"I quite agree with you, my dear," replied Monkey-face. "I will be ready to start whenever you say the word."

"Start for where?" demanded Mrs. Monkey-face.

"Why, for our old home in the church belfry," replied Monkey-face. "Who has said anything about going back there?" demanded Mrs. Monkey-face. "You must be crazy to think of such a thing when right here we have the best place we ever have had or ever will have. This place couldn't be better suited to our needs if it had been made especially for us. Just get it out of that foolish head of yours that we ever are going back to that church belfry."

"Yes," replied Monkey-face meekly. Then he flew over to a rafter in the darkest corner to be by himself. He just had to chuckle and it wouldn't do to let Mrs. Monkey-face see him doing it.

"It is a wise Owl who knows when to hold his tongue," he muttered. Then he chuckled again, but it was a very quiet chuckle.

Membership Tea To Be Given Today at Y. W. C. A. Building

The membership tea which the Young Women's Christian Association gives at 3:30 o'clock today in the parlors of the administration building, 37 Auburn avenue, will assemble over 100 Atlanta women who appreciate the fellowship offered by the Y. W. C. A. and wish to further understand its possibilities and pleasures. Under the direction of Mrs. E. Marvin Underwood, president, a program clarifying the basis of membership and explaining the advantages, will be given preceding the social hour.

Miss Flora Hatcher, one of the most inspiring speakers on the Y. W. C. A. staff, will open the program by interpreting the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. Membership emphasis during the coming months will be on the purpose and its declaration to "Associate young women in personal loyalty to Jesus Christ; lead them into membership and service in the Christian church; promote growth in Christian character and service through physical, social, mental and spiritual training; become a social force for the extension of the Kingdom of God."

Leaders to Speak. "Why I Join the Y. W. C. A." by several outstanding leaders of the association will give valuable talking points to membership committee women, who, working through the churches, will create an understanding of Y. W. C. A. programs, policies and beliefs. These three-minute reasons will be presented by Mrs. E. L. Buga, Mrs. Julia Robinson, Mrs. Walter Van Nostrand, Mrs. T. Guy Woodford and Mrs. Theodore Jack. From these statements will develop a round-table discussion of problems in securing memberships and difficulties encountered in explaining in concrete terms what it offers. Moderated by Mrs. J. N. McEachern.

Mrs. John H. Mullin will preside at the tea tables, assisted by Mrs. D. B. McCoy, and Mrs. J. N. Underwood will be members of the executive board of the Y. W. C. A., including Mesdames Robert M. Crumley, Fred Patterson, Misses Sue Brown and Stern.

It is the aim of the Y. W. C. A. to secure at least 1,500 new members during 1932, thus making the total membership over 2,000. At the annual meeting held February 16, more than 500 were present and this interest and enthusiasm encourages every director, staff secretary and member to make every effort to increase service and stronger fellowship during 1932.

Dr. McMurray Speaks. Dr. Carl McMurray, pastor of the Methodist Presbyterian church, will address the members of the Y. W. C. A. staff at the meeting Tuesday morning, February 16, at 8:45 o'clock. Dr. McMurray has a great deal to say and will bring interesting description of conditions in Palestine.

Miss Anne Fridmore, who is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. meetings, has invited ministers of the city to bring a message to the "Y" staff. Mrs. E. Marvin Underwood, recently from that winning, discord a club on the Ace of spades and then trust neither opponent could over-rudder until I had disposed of all my losers. The Y. W. C. A. has been working, as I would have been left with a losing trump at the end.

TODAY'S POINTER. In discarding to direct a lead card should be exercised in order that the discard may not cost a trick later in the hand. The hand is now over until all 13 tricks have been played.

War of Psychics. Question: Is this forcing: "Opening Hand one heart, Second Hand one spade, Third and Fourth hands pass, Opening Hand three diamonds?" Answer: Yes. The message that the Opening Hand is now conveying to his partner is: "Partner, despite the fact that you have shown no support for my Opening bid and that one opponent has bid, I still believe that we have a game in our hands." ## Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON

Signaling for a Lead

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

The correct use of signals to direct a partner, who may be in the dark as to the proper way to continue in an attempt to defend a hand, has long been recognized as a necessary feature of a winning game. Sometimes failure to signal will result in making a contract which could have been defeated. However, care should be exercised in determining when and how to signal, as the hand below, played in the sixty-fourth rubber of my match with Messrs. Sidney S. Lenz and Oswald Jacoby, discloses.

Mr. Lenz 965
Mr. Jacoby 963
Mr. Culbertson 963
Mr. von Zedtwitz 963

Mr. Culbertson's hand: ♠ A Q 8 2, ♥ K J 7 5, ♦ 10 3, ♣ A 10 8. Mr. von Zedtwitz's hand: ♠ 7, ♥ A 7 6 3, ♦ K J 10 7 4, ♣ Q 8 6 5 3.

The Bidding: South West North East. Pass 1♠ Pass 2♠. Pass 2♥ Pass 3♥. Pass 3NT Pass 4♥. Pass Pass Pass.

Mr. Lenz opened the King of diamonds and followed with the Ace. On the lead of the Ace of diamonds, Mr. Jacoby decided that he should direct his partner as to the proper continuation in the hope of defeating the game contract which I had assumed. He, therefore, played the Knave of clubs and this play permitted me to make my contract, as later in the hand I was enabled to lead toward my club holding from the Dummy and thus assure me of losing only a single trick in that suit. This with two diamond tricks, were all that my opponents were able to make.

Mr. Jacoby's discard was a distinctly bad play. This is not said in any spirit of criticism, as he was, in general, for it is splendid, but to point the moral and adorn the tale for less expert players. He could have conveyed the same message to his partner by the discard of his lowest spade. Mr. Lenz, having been warned against leading spades, could then lead only clubs and were this done my only possible recourse would have been to take a finesse in spades and, with that winning discard a club on the Ace of spades and then trust neither opponent could over-rudder until I had disposed of all my losers. The Y. W. C. A. has been working, as I would have been left with a losing trump at the end.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED. Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Constitution, enclosing a two-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TARZAN AND THE ANT MEN No. 21

Miranda, the Spaniard, clinging tightly to the wrist of little Uhha, crouched in the darkness of another forest twenty miles away from where Tarzan had escaped from the giant she-things. He was trembling now as the thunderous notes of a lion reverberated through the midnight jungle. The witch doctor's daughter felt the trembling of the 'big man's' body at her side and turned upon him with contempt. "You are not the River Devil!" she exclaimed. "You are afraid! You are not even Tarzan, for my father has told me that Tarzan is afraid of nothing!"

"Let me go!" she cried, "that I may climb a tree. Only a coward would stand here dead with terror, waiting for the lion to come and devour him. Let me go!" and she tried to wrench herself from his powerful grasp. "Shut up!" he whispered. "Do you want to attract the beast to us?" Stopping, he seized and lifted her until she could grasp the lower branches of the tree above them. Then, as she clambered to safety, the man who had so long cleverly impersonated Tarzan, swung himself easily to her side.

Presently, higher up, the two settled down to await dawn, while below them, Numa, the lion, prowled for a while and roared so that the jungle shook. Exhausted by lack of sleep, the two slipped to the ground with the sunrise. Uhha would have delayed, hoping that the warriors of Obbe might overtake them. But the man feared the same thing; so he desired to put the greatest possible distance between himself and the black cannibal chief. He was completely lost, having not the remotest idea where he should search for a trail to the coast.

Nor, for the present, did he care. His one wish was to escape capture by Obbe, the cannibal chief. And so he elected to move northward, keeping always an eye open for a well marked trail toward the west. Eventually, he hoped, he might discover a village of friendly natives who would aid him upon his journey toward the African coast. So the two moved as rapidly as they could in a northerly direction. Their way skirted the Great Thorn Forest along the eastern edge of which they traveled.
